

Little Witch Tiara & the Magic Forest

Written by Yiu P. Si
Illustrated by Kaoru Hama

Little Witch Tiara & the Magic Forest

Written by Yiu P. Si
Illustrated by Kaoru Hama

Tiara, a six-year-old Apprentice Witch, has only recently started learning at the Magic Forest Witch School to become a witch. Witch school is not easy, so Tiara studies very hard. She loves to have many friends, but all the Apprentice Witches are so busy with schoolwork that no one has much time to make friends.

Tiara is very smart. Using the limited knowledge of magic skills she has learned, she manages to secretly write a magic letter and send it to the Real World. She hopes that someone may find and read it and come to meet her in the Magic Forest.

On a beautiful sunny day, Barney the Donkey is taking his usual afternoon nap in the barn at Old McDuffy's Farm. Suddenly a tiny letter falls on his nose. He opens and reads the letter:

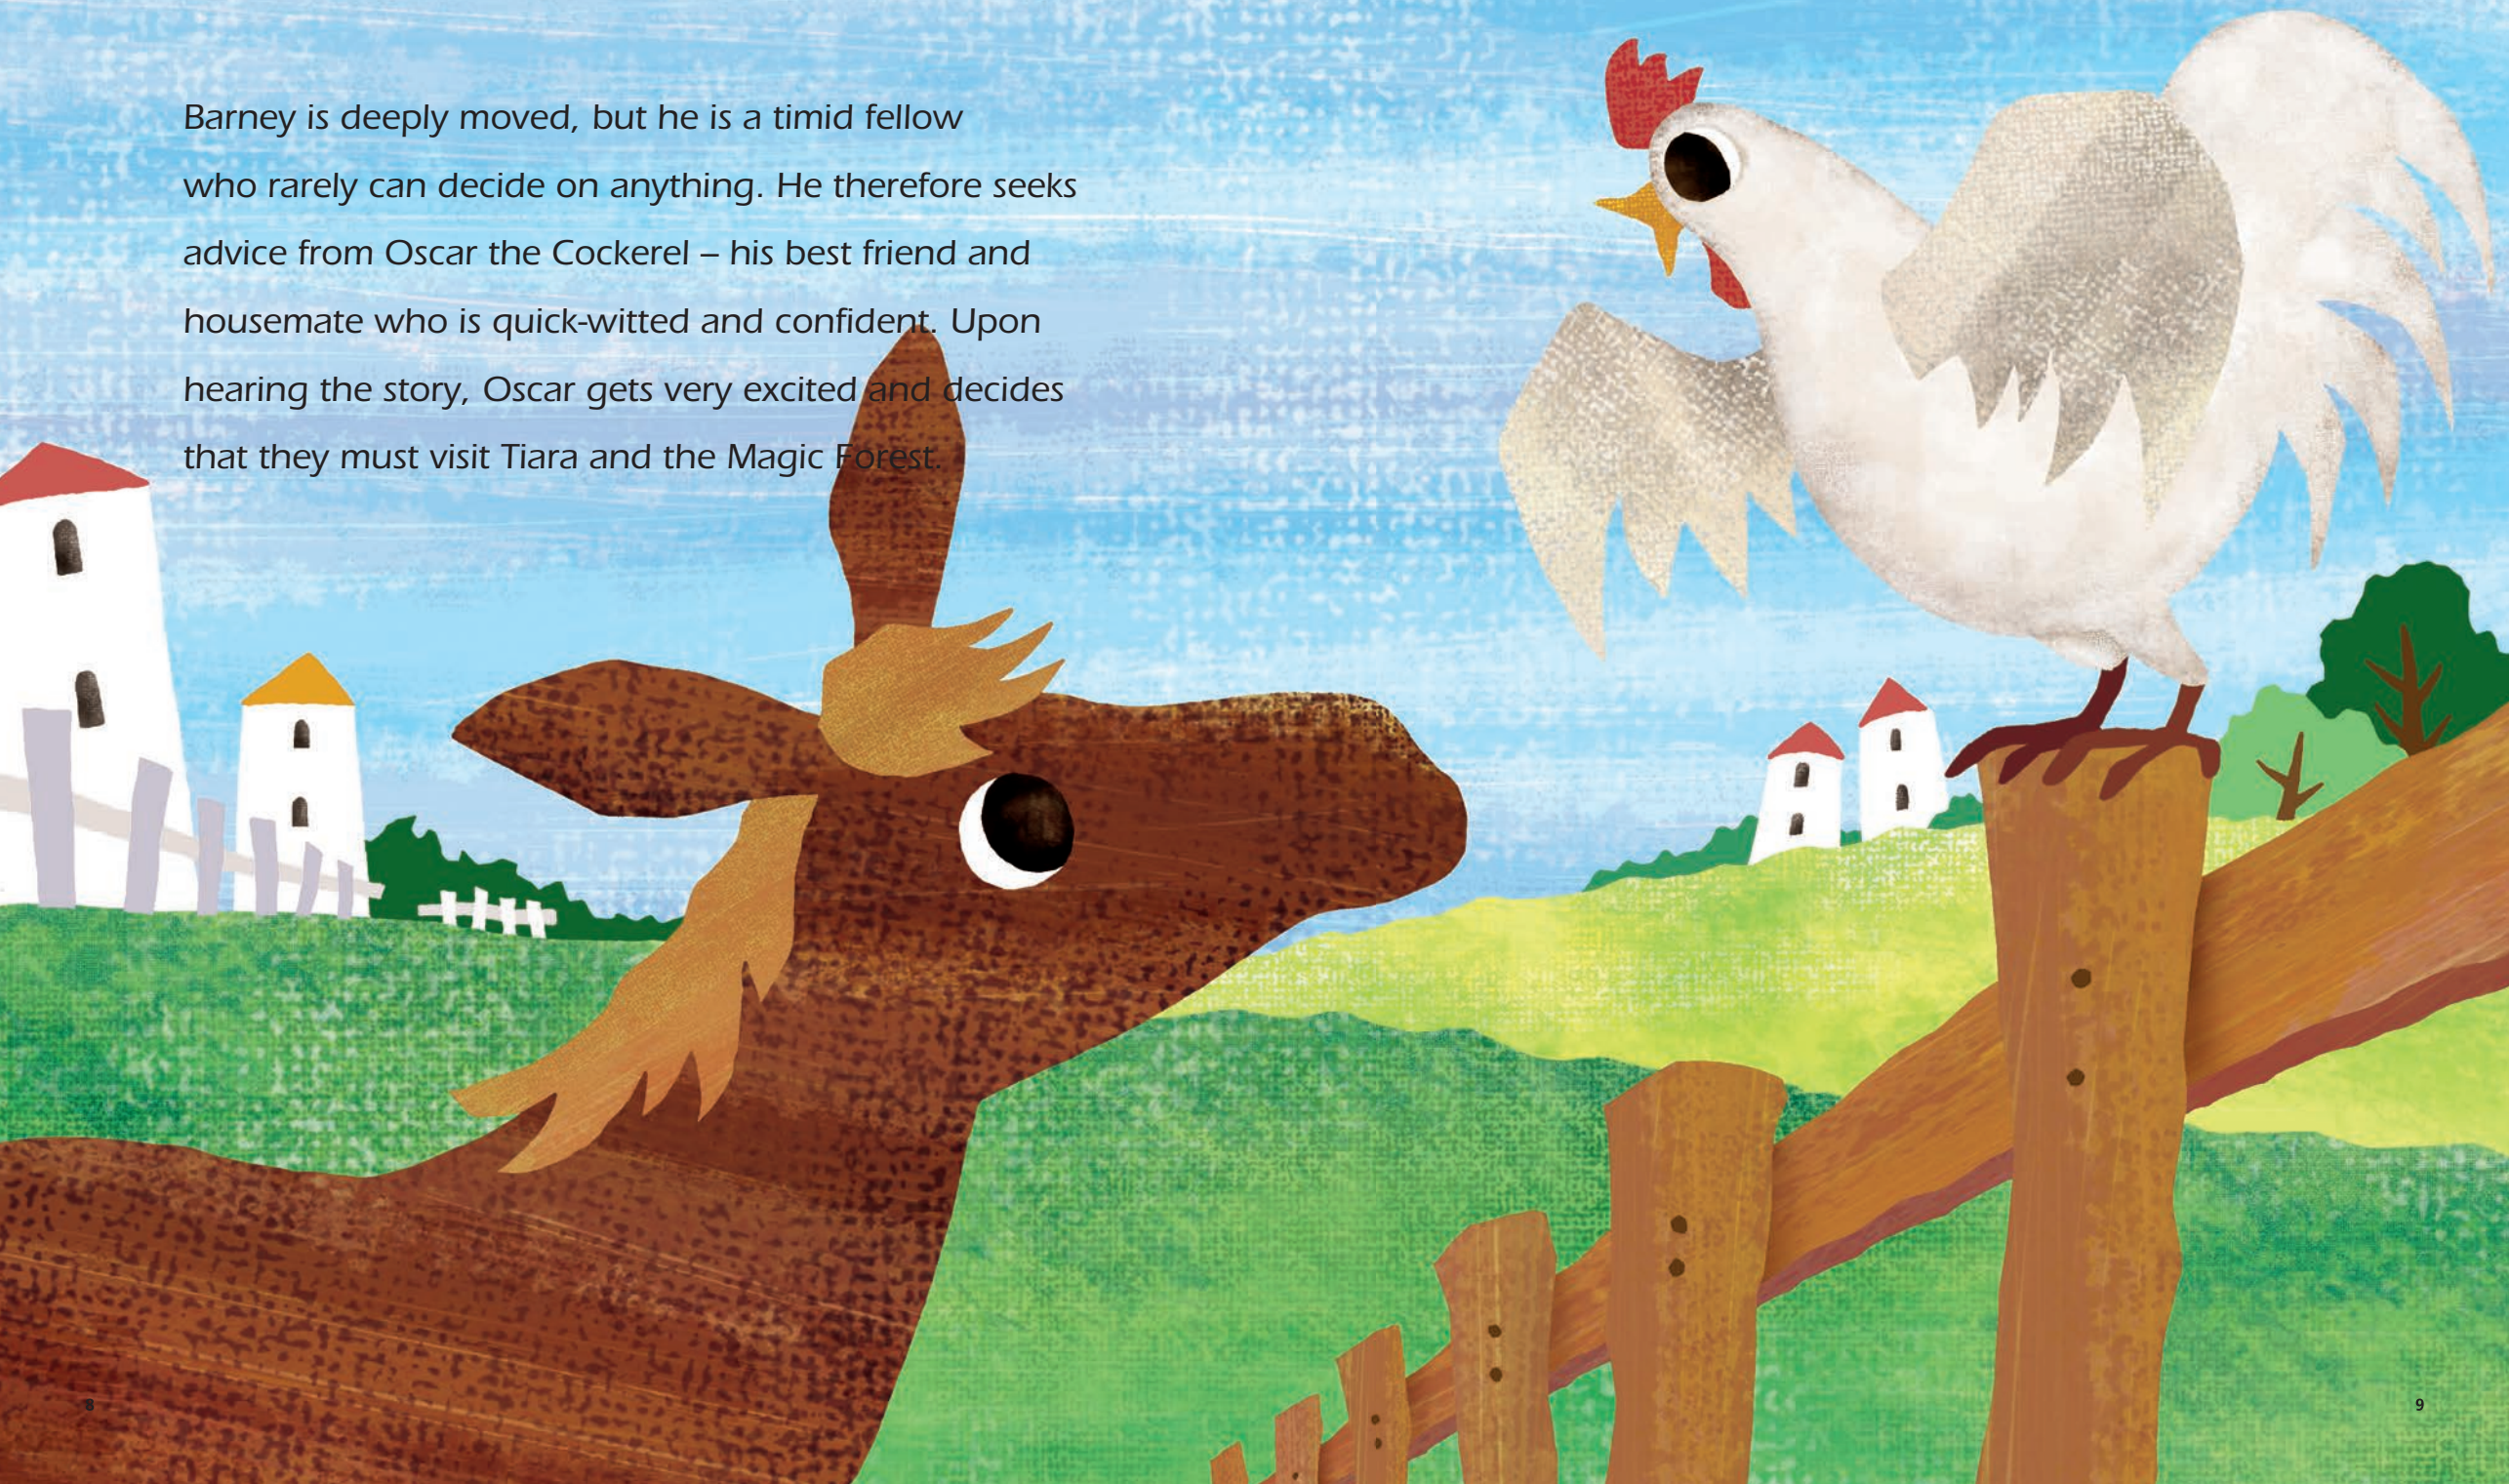

Dear Little Friends,

I am Tiara the friendly Apprentice Witch. I want to make friends with all the honest and sincere folks from the Real World. Please come to the Magic Forest. I will be waiting for all of you inside the Magic Mirror.

Truly, Your Friend, Tiara.

P.S. Don't forget to use the Magic Key to unlock a fantastically magical world!

Barney is deeply moved, but he is a timid fellow who rarely can decide on anything. He therefore seeks advice from Oscar the Cockerel – his best friend and housemate who is quick-witted and confident. Upon hearing the story, Oscar gets very excited and decides that they must visit Tiara and the Magic Forest.

Their loud conversation is overheard by Kirby the Frog who happens to be doing his afternoon hopping exercise behind the barn.

Kirby says, "Can I join too? I leap fast and far, and I can be your guide"

Needless to say, Barney and Oscar are delighted to have their good buddy Kirby come along.

By chance, their play pal and good friend Frida the Cat stops by at the barn to visit. She is impressed by Tiara's sincerity and really wants to be her friend. So the four decide to take the trip together. "But where's the Magic Forest? How do we find the Mystery Gate?" Barney mutters. No one has the answer.

The illustration is a two-page spread. On the left page, a large, brown tree trunk with a face (two large eyes and a small mouth) is the central focus. The tree has many green leaves. On the right page, a small, brown owl with large eyes is flying. The background is a light blue sky with white, curved lines representing wind or clouds. Several green leaves are scattered around, some falling from the tree. The ground is a dark brown color.

Back inside the Magic Forest, the Spirit of the Forest is soon aware of Tiara's letter and her secret little plan. The wind also brings to him the conversation among the four friends at Old McDuffy's Farm. He summons Lucas the Owl, and reprimands him for not keeping a watchful eye on Tiara.

"Tiara should concentrate on studying instead of making new friends", the Spirit speaks gently.

“But dear Sprit of the Forest, Tiara is a good pupil and she works really hard. I check her homework every day, and she is making great progress in her magic learning. She just wants to be friendly and share her happiness with everyone”, explains Lucas.

The Sprit of the Forest is very understanding. He relents, “Tiara is indeed the best Apprentice Witch in the entire Magic Forest. All right, I shall allow it. My dear Lucas, please go and escort the four friends at the Farm to journey to the Magic Forest.”

That evening, with Lucas leading the way,
Barney, Oscar, Kirby and Frida happily make the journey to the Magic Forest.

They soon arrive at the Mystery Gate and are greeted by the Dragon and the Unicorn.

Once inside the Magic Forest, they meet the Spirit of the Forest who welcomes them and shows them Tiara's Magic Mirror. Frida touches the Magic Mirror...

...and Tiara appears to greet them with the warmest smile. She is truly the friendliest little witch in the entire Magic Forest.

Kirby finds the Magic Key and insert it into the lock to open up a whole world of magic and fantasy.

They sing, dance, play, and laugh together.

Soon all the withes, fairies, and magical creatures join them. It is truly the most magical and joyous gathering that none of them will ever forget.

And you can join them too. Tiara invites all the friendly and fun-loving to join her and her friends for a most magical and unforgettable party in the Magic Forest. Just come through the Mystery Gate and enter the Magic Forest, and a world of happy magic will unveil itself before your eyes!

Little Witch Liara & the Magic Forest

Copyright © Yiu P. Si 2007.

All rights reserved.

